

One Day Artist in Residency with Nancy and the Rocky Mountain Deaf School Students at Access Gallery, Denver, Colorado
August 29, 2015

De'VIA Graffiti Project
"De'VIA HANDEYES"

We started off with sketching for ideas for the graffiti work.

Then we began with practice work by using yellow spray paint. The graffiti artist looked at Nancy's D hand, copying onto the board. The board itself is a plywood size 4 ft by 6 ft.

Each student spray painted.

There were four Deaf students who participated in the project.

Towards the end, we added black lines around the hands.

Each of us signed our names on the back of the board. We titled the graffit work "De'VIA HANDEYES."

The entire team accomplished the project. Three hours total.
